

Post-it Note Timeline

How it works

Each pupil writes, for example, an event from a historical period or from a piece of literature they've studied onto a post-it.

The class can then work collaboratively to sort these events into some type of order.

This could be developed in all sorts of ways: pupils do it in silence; in small groups then merge into larger groups; by only asking questions of each other without seeing the event on the note; etc