

Listening Triads

Group work

How it works

Pupils are in groups of three- a talker, a questioner, and a recorder who reports back. The role of the recorder is to watch the group dynamic and listen to their language use.

After a task, one person from each group visits another group to share ideas, then reports back to the original group.