

Roll Of The Dice

Students summarise their learning either at the start or end of the lesson

How it works

In groups students are asked to summarise a subject, topic or lesson in the number of sentences determined by the roll of the dice. Each group throws the dice separately. Alternatively, students can test each other's learning by creating questions determined by the number on the dice.