

Environmental sustainability week

Daily update: Thursday 14th November 2024

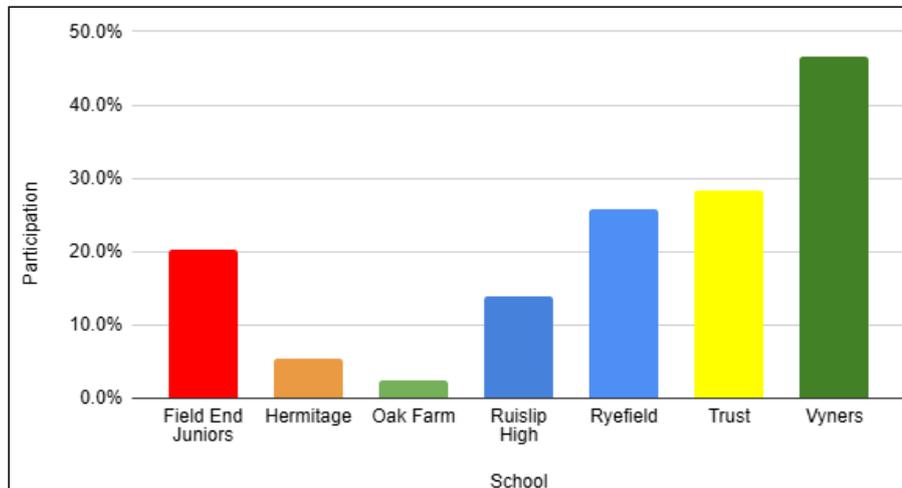

Activities across the Trust and schools have continued at pace. The central team staff held their book swap and shared items to reuse. Students at Ryefield did a seed-planting activity to help them understand the importance of nature and growing their own plants. Students at Oak Farm have been performing their sustainability songs in their classes, as well as carrying out a litter picking session. Students at Field End have been working on their posters for their school competition and students at Ruislip High School carried out their community litter pick.

The fourth daily quiz to be completed is now ready. The video is called 'Warmest January on record indicates sweltering 2024' (click here for video and click here for quiz). Students have until 5pm on Monday 18th November 2024 to complete the quiz if they would like their score to be entered into the overall competition. Wednesday's quiz closes at 5pm on Friday 15th November 2024 (click here for video and click here for quiz) and tomorrow's quiz will be released in Friday's daily flyer; it is on a video called 'Talking climate with Mike Berners-Lee'.

COP 29 continued today with a full programme of talks and workshops focused on sustainable finance, investment and trade (click here for more information).

Finally, today's 'live' totals from the 'how low can we go?' challenge are now available and are shown below.

'How low can we go?' challenge participation figures